Struggling with Expository and Functional Text? We can Help!

Our reading-based Social Studies programs teach students to comprehend difficult expository and functional text.

Our units activate prior knowledge with brainstorming, k•w•l•h charts, discussion questions, and content vocabulary.

Students read to learn with high interest content full of engaging illustrations of history's most famous people and places.

Comprehension assessment takes place with graphic organizers, comprehension and discussion questions, time line sequencing, journal writing, hands-on following directions tasks, persuasive essays, the list goes on and on...
